“ Bryant,

I visited with your father just the other day. He told me how proud he was of you, your accomplishments, and what a fine young man you have become.

I am deeply sorry for your loss. Let me know if you need anything.

God Bless,

Michael Monaghan

“ Many special thoughts and prayers go your way. Kitty it was always refreshing to see Bryant with you as his happiness as your husband was very apparent when he would stop by to see you at school throughout the years. Boys, not long ago, I had visited with your dad and he was so proud of both of you and was updating me of your accomplishments and where you were. His love for you and your mother was seen often and his talent for music was shared with many. May your hearts remain filled with his own music of love through his God-given talents as a father and husband.
