“ Osborn was my recruiter. I owe everything I am today to him pulling strings and working his butt off to get me into the Army Guard. He had to dig up and do a couple different waivers for me due to my small stature. He was so patient and kind and hilarious. This is truly a sad day. You will be missed by many, know that you made a huge difference in a lot of lives. Heaven gained an amazing hero.

“ I met Lucas through Randy and Karen. I immediately liked Lucas. Late 2019 Lucas and Randy attended a Royals game. Kerri and I noticed them in the left field bar and we all decided to enjoy the game together, at the bar, instead of them going to their really nice seats.
Lucas offered to provide assistance and advice to both of our sons regarding military options. As a result, Sam joined the ANG last June, 2020, while still in high school. He left for basic training June 22nd of this year. Lucas' support and advice helped Sam make some great decisions and his brother Zack is still considering joining after he graduates college.
I'll never forget Lucas for his instant friendship and his quality, heart felt guidance, he showed my family.
My heart breaks for the family. I pray for peace and comfort knowing that Lucas made a difference in many lives.

“ Although we only spoke a few times, Lucas left a lasting impression on me. We were in the band in high school together. He always seemed so happy-go-lucky. We never really talked in high school, but years after graduation we saw each other at Best Buy and he remembered me and we had a quick conversation. He was so nice and I remember wishing we had been friends back in school.

“ My thoughts and prayers go out to Lucas' family. I met him at Washburn University in the Marching Band in 2000. When I walked in the door for the Saxophone section, he was wearing a Viking Helmet. The best example of his personality, always laughing but dedicated to the art. I enjoyed playing with him and will always remember his personal mission was to play his Saxophone louder than any other instrument in the band.

“ Dear Family of Luke,
My heart is breaking for you all. I worked with Amy ‘O’ way back when at Bennigan’s and I had the pleasure of babysitting the 3 tow-headed kiddos, L, E & K. ❤️❤️❤️ I remember I had never used a gas stove before and was always freaked out to make them dinner. ;) They were all sweet, high spirited kids and will always hold a special place in this old babysitter’s heart—tho little K always preferred Cathie S to me. :) Luke just wanted to be on the move!! Luckily I was just 19 so I could keep up.
Thinking of and praying for you all. May God’s love bring you peace and comfort in the days ahead.

Sincerely,

Paige Noss (formerly Myers then Correll)

“ One of my first and best memories of Lucas was one of our first team meetings together. We decided together it would be fun to wear whatever random hat or mask we had available in effort to be as disruptive as possible to everyone else on the virtual meeting. That began a string of shenanigans we kept going for several more months. To say I will miss him is an understatement but I am glad I got to know him for as long as I did. May he feast and battle with the Allfather in Valhalla.

“ Not only was Captain Osborn one of my Soldiers and brother in arms, but more importantly a colleague, and most importantly a friend. For all those who's life he touched, I think it would be safe to say from everyone, thanks for all the great laughs and memories. Until Valhalla brother

“ Lucas and I spread shenanigans all over Ft. Bliss on our train up to go overseas. He was a fellow officer that I could trust and confide in. We worked together in the COIC, and the world has lost a great officer and father.

“ Lucas's sense of humor melded perfectly with mine making our daily walking breaks a highlight of every workday. He will be dearly missed, and his family always in our thoughts and prayers.

“ I am so sorry to hear Lucas has been parted from his family and friends. We were never close while attending WU, but crossed paths frequently. Lucas was fun and kind. I know he will be acutely missed by many. May he be at peace and his loved ones comforted in some small measure by knowing he is remembered fondly.

“ Lucas and I commuted to guard drill together on a monthly basis for a few years. I will always remember the many laughs we shared on those car rides together. He always had a sense of humor that I related to very well. I'm saddened to have lost touch with him over the years. But I will always remember the good times we had in High School, at Washburn, and at Guard.

He is a permanent part of my memories.

The memory I have, that still makes me laugh, we were driving from a guard gig and passed an abandoned factory that was rusted over and was well past its years of being functional. And one of us asked "I wonder what they produced at that factory?" and then together, in unison, we both answered: "Rust!!"

Lucas then struggled to keep the car on the road as we fought back tears from laughter for the next several minutes. It was that simpatico sense of humor that made him so much fun to be around.

“ My favorite memory of Lucas was the day I met him. I still think he told the story the best, but I will try to measure up. It was freshman year of high school and I was leaving one of our band parties. I parked on the street that had a ditch on each side of it. There was only one way in and out, so when it was time to leave, I had to turn my car around. When trying to complete a four point turn, I backed up a little bit too far, and backed down into the ditch. Front of the car sticking straight up. Lucas witnessed the whole thing and came running over to see if I was ok, only to see some crazy kid laughing hysterically. After he realized I was ok, we attached my car to Kent Crane’s truck and pulled me out. We’ve been best friends ever since and we both would laugh every time we thought about the time we first met.

“ Lucas, oh how I will miss you. Your stories, game nights, dinners, and all the running we used to do. My heart is shattered. Love you so much. And I will always think of you when I hear House of the Rising Sun just like I texted you a couple weeks ago. Life will never be the same, and never quite as good for SO many of us. <3
