“ My condolences to Carlan's family. Carlan spread a lot of joy over his lifetime. When I started a home sales business back in the 70's Carlan was there with all his ease and comfort, making an understandable tax record for my job so much easier. His ability to bring people into the wood carving world was incredible. Carlan will be missed my many.

“ He was one of the greatest men I know. He was an angel to my kids and myself. He always asked how Conner was doing as if he was his own grandson. He would do anything for anyone. One thing that will always remember is how much he loved his Pink Christmas tree that he bought at the Festival of Trees. There is so many memories that I have and I will cherish of him and all the stories he shared with me. He holds a very special place in my heart and will never be forgotten. He became family to me along with the rest of the family. Thoughts and Prayers to Irene and all the entire family. Love to All

I was just driving by where he lived and thought of him yesterday. I met him through my employer and crafted a replica of my employer's sailboat. Very talented and a wonderful person.
