“ It's been a couple of years now, I miss my friend. I think of him often. I had a funny memory of him come to mind. Me and my husband bought a house, and in this house hung curtains that were left by the previous owner, who was probably 80 years old. David came to visit. I was walking him through the house, we came to one room and I told him what I loved the most was these curtains! The ugliest things you ever seen! His eyes got so big as he looked at me. I cracked up laughing at him as he believes me. Needless to say he was releaved that I was lieing. He told me I had him worried. I just loved messing with him. He was a great doctor, and great co worker and a wonderful friend!

“ Dave was a friend to many, and a great doctor to his patients, but more than that, Dave took time to encourage others who were going through hard times in their lives.
I always appreciated his encouraging words, and willingness to help.
RIP dear friend, you will be missed!

I remember so well the first time I stepped into his office. The glow on his face, the smile did you and happiness about him. While I felt so bad physically comma the first thing he asked me was do you have joy. I thought that was such an odd thing for a doctor to ask a patient nevertheless, my answer was no I don't really feel Joy. So the first thing he said instead of addressing my illness was this. He said, we need to First get your joy back. I never gave it much thought at the time but later I realized how important it was to have joy. While in my office we talked of God and I even said, can I pray for you to which she responded Yes. He was the most kind comma generous and most compassionate doctor I have ever seen. I will miss him so very much even though I only knew him for a short while. His wife daughter and the staff absolutely the best group of people that I have ever dealt with in a medical office. To his wife and to his family comma I am so sorry for your loss. I know there's nothing I can say or do to take away the pain deep inside of you. But if someone told me one time, instead of focusing on the sadness you have to smile and remember all the wonderful things about him and talk about him and the memories you have. You are all in my prayers during this difficult time. May the spirit of the Lord rest upon you and may he give you comfort and peace as you walk through this very difficult Journey. Be blessed and have a good day in the Lord

“David was a very kind, very caring man. He was the best doctor I've ever had care for me, and I appreciated his straightforwardness, honesty, and knowledge. Even more I appreciated that he'd take the time to speak of personal things, lend an ear, give advice, and help shoulder more then medical issues.

I am heartbroken to hear of his passing; I am sorry for your loss, and he will be missed.

“ Dr Jones was the best physician I had ever known. He was my doctor for a short 5 years, but did more to impact my health than any other doctor. Not only as my doctor, but as a welcome ear. Always ready to take the time to be a healer, physically and mentally. We had many conversations about my passions as well as his. He will be missed.

“ Doc was definitely a child of God and was obvious in everything he did. You couldn't ask for a kinder, generous and loving person, he was such a gift from God to all of us. When it snowed you could always find him out with his snowblower and shovel helping all of us in his neighborhood. We will miss him and he will remain deeply in our hearts. I pray God will give his loved ones strength to cope the loss of his body on this earth but am sure he will be on their shoulders watching over them. God Bless all of his family and friends.

“ Thank you David for all the words and caring that you shared with me over the many years that you were my doctor and my friend in Baldwin City, Things could seem so bad but when you entered the room your smile and presence would chase away the shadows. Thank you for coming to my rescue when I needed you NOW.....even after hours, with all those "lifes little emergencies" that a nervous Mother has with two baby boys growing up. I can only imagine how very well you are loved by your own children and family. Too young gone from our presence here. We all will enjoy the day when we shall meet again. Love to you my friend. Peace and God's blessed assurance to your wife and family. God's gain is our loss....we will be happy for you!

“ David as a high school student was an athlete and had a special drive for life that caused him to be an outgoing and inviting kind of person. He just naturally made friends, was a leader and accomplished many things that others only think about. The zeal he lived with was also tempered with wisdom and a willingness to help others. All this I can say were obvious about him from his high school and college years. Those traits only carried on through the rest of his life experiences. Even though I did not keep in touch with him after his college days it is no surprise to me to know that so many continued to be impacted and helped by David. 'Many are the afflictions of the righteous man but the LORD delivers him from them all.' David is delivered now and safe in the arms of his Savior, a very happy man. I still cherish the times when he played steel guitar while I played my electric guitar. . We played " What a friend we have in Jesus " at the Omaha chapel. Was fantastic. “ I am always saddened by the death of a good person. It is from this sadness that a feeling of gratitude emerges. I feel honored to have known them and blessed that their passing serves as a reminder to me that my time on this beautiful earth is limited and that I should seize the opportunity I have to forgive, share, explore, and love. And that God is always in control. I can think of no greater way to honor the deceased than to live this way. David will be greatly missed by all who knew and loved him. He was always so nice to me and Randy. And his love for God was so evident in everything he did.

He had the kindest heart, sincerest thoughts about your well being, great sense of humor, a super driven man with an amazing work ethic, and a loving man that loved everyone around him whether they were family, friends, strangers, rude, etc. He always showed love to everyone when I saw him and that warmth and love always warmed my heart every time I saw him for a visit at the office or saw him at church. He was one of the best people I knew. He will be sorely missed and loved. Glad you are up in Heaven Doc not suffering anymore! See you later! :) <3*
