“ It deeply saddened me to learn of the passing of your dear loved one. All of us have experienced losing someone and it is never easy. I have been able to cope with such losses by relying on God's word the bible for encouragement. This has been very beneficial in my life. I have come to appreciate the promise found at Isaiah 33:24 which states that one day 'No resident will say "I am sick" and how 'mourning will come to completion'. (Isaiah 60:20) It is important that you know that God never intended for mankind to die. He tells us that there will one day be a resurrection (Acts 24:15) Our hope in this resurrection begins with our trusting in God. His words will never fail for 'it is impossible for God to lie'. (Hebrews 6:18) Isn't this encouraging, the prospect of seeing our loved ones again? Please know that this will be accomplished by means of God's kingdom which is mentioned at Daniel 2:44, which states, '. . . God will set up a kingdom that will never be brought to ruin. . . . and it itself will staid to times indefinite.' It is my hope that you are strengthened by these thoughts. May you read them from your own bible, meditate on them and gain faith in seeing your loved one again by means of the resurrection hope.
