Words cannot express entirely what I'm currently feeling at this present time. Janice aka J-Mo, was such a tremendous force of love, compassion, inspiration, a fighter, a leader, and one of my favorites, a partier. Now Lorraine, (you know we would call your mother by her first name. LoL) said to give one of my fondest memories of you. I recall one moment in particular. We were laying on your trampoline in your backyard. There was a level of peace that covered the both us. As we laid on our backs, gazing at the stars, and enjoying one another's company. You made the statement, "we will be in one another lives forever." I thought we had more time J-Mo, I really thought we had more time, because as you have been living life to the true fullest. I have finally begin to live mine. I will forever love you as I have been in this life and into the next. My condolences goes out to your son, your family, your friends, and all parties that's affected by this tragic loss. I love you J-Mo

Janice was one of my students when she was a freshman in high school. One of my favorite memories of her was from the time we spent on a student senate trip to Washington DC, where I was chaperone. We did lots of walking on that trip and one day, Janice showed up in flip-flops and I told her that her footwear choice was not a great one. Sure enough, her one flip-flop broke and we had a good laugh about it. I think she walked about 10 miles that day with only one flip-flop! I have so many great pictures of her from that trip. She was a bright light and a wonderful human being. We had just been chatting via Facebook messenger about a month ago. Rest in peace, sweet Janice!

“ I met Janice freshman year at Michigan State, and we were roommates Senior Year. Janice always had a smile on her face, and a positive attitude. Even on bad days, or days after going out on the town when we were all tired! We haven't stayed in touch much since college, with the exception of occasional Facebook messages, or comments on pictures of each others kids, but I always loved getting messages from her. You could tell just in pictures how much she loved Michael!

Janice also loved Michigan State and loved tailgating and going to the football games. Go Green girl, forever ❤️

“ If you knew me in high school, you knew Janice. We were always together, partners in crime and best friends. We met in middle school through our love of sports and our friendship was immediate. We shared so many experiences and of course your usual high school drama. Through it all, our friendship blossomed into a sisterhood that can never be replicated. Anytime I needed her, she was at my house within minutes. She was an honorary family member and my family loved having her around. I have thousands of memories, big and small moments that all mean so much. Her parents surprised us with a cruise for our senior trip, where we both had our first "legal" sip of alcohol! Prom night, we headed back to my house to change for an after party and fell asleep. We woke up to a hundred missed calls of our friends partying, looking for us 😂 We played thousands of games of basketball, where she usually beat my butt lol. Her making me watch Texas Chain Saw in my basement because she loved to terrify me. She picked me up for school every morning and it was such an easy, happy way to start the day, with my best friend! I was always the silly, crazy one, singing and dancing while she would just watch and laugh. That's what made us such a great pair. She always had my back and cussed quite a few boyfriends out for me. She wasn't afraid to tell you how it was and that will always be one of my favorite things about her. Since she passed, I've had these memories and so many more come rushing back and I only wish I could reminisce with her. Swimming at her house in the summers, celebrating our birthdays together (we're only 4 days apart), her mom and her dying my hair after I messed it up 😂, spending the night and eating turkey bacon in the mornings, all the late night phone calls gossiping and laughing, getting ready together and going to football games, watching movies and basketball games in her basement and so many more! I remember when she called me to tell me she was pregnant with Michael. She was so excited and happy. And more recently when we were teasing each other about a possible Lions/Chiefs Superbowl. Even with everything she was going through, she always asked about my girls and it was just like her, to always put others first. We had a friendship I will never ever forget and she will always live on in my heart. I love you J. ❤️❤️

“ In the four years I spent at Michigan State, I knew Janice pretty much from day 1. She was a breath of fresh, beautiful air and the most amazing person to be around. When she walked into a room she made us all smile and laugh. Coming from Jersey, I wasn't sure how my personality would fit in with the Michigan folk. As soon as I met Janice I knew we were going to be great friends. She was smart, funny, witty and real. She always told it how it was and that blended with my personality very easily. Not only did I spend a lot of my time with Janice on campus, but we spent some holidays together and my family had the pleasure of getting to know the amazing Janice as well.

Janice was the person who could always put a smile on my face and the person I could turn to with anything. This world lost an amazing woman and I know I can speak for many many people when I say that your beautiful soul will be truly missed. I love you girl 💕💕

*'Tis a fearful thing
to love what death can touch.
A fearful thing
to love, to hope, to dream, to be—
to be,
And oh, to lose.
A thing for fools, this,
And a holy thing,
a holy thing
to love.
For your life has lived in me,
your laugh once lifted me,
your word was gift to me.
To remember this brings painful joy.
'Tis a human thing, love,
a holy thing, to love
what death has touched.*
