“ I sit and stare

*hoping it was a nightmare so when I wake up she'll be there my feelings inside I cannot bear
I keep them to myself not even to share.
I can still smell her scent still flowing through the air
I don't know why she's gone but it just ain't fair.
I still think it's her walking through the door
I miss her loads and love her even more!
I just don't understand why she don't live, she is beautiful and loving has so much to give.
you will never be forgotten deep down inside my heart the thing that hurts so much is that we have to part, you are so very pretty, you always will be you are missed by my little sweet pea.
I can't help to mope but it's so hard to cope I just can't tell you how much pain I'm in all I have to say is "until we meet again" love your little sister connie*

“ To my loving daughter Janice whom I loved deeply and will miss very much but will remember everyday of my life. Bill just got acquainted with her after we got back together as we were high school sweethearts and Janice was the one that encouraged me as well as my other children to retire and make a life for myself. I love it here in Arkansas and miss my families much but the Lord shows us the way things are going to be.

God Bless you my love and I will see you one day.

Love always Mom & Bill

“ What a good person Janice was, I worked with her years ago in Dept of Revenue and she was so much fun to be around.. We kept in touch for a while and lost contact but I thought of her often. My heart goes out to her family.

“ My prayers are with your family. It was a priviledge to know Janice. Her ready, friendly smile lit up the room. Her laughter never failed to brighten up my day no matter what was going on in my life. We always had a lot of fun on the volunteer day for United Way whether we were cleaning out dirty lunch trays or shampooing rugs in the Crintion home. Janice was a very giving person and her soul touched more people than any of us can ever realize. Our lives here are a little dimmer with Janice no longer with us, but I know for sure that she is making Heaven a little brighter! God bless you all and may He send his angels to be with you in your time of sorrow.

“ Our staff, Marsha, Marilyn, Brittany and Betty, join me and my wife Glenda, in extending our condolences. We saw Janice just weeks ago and it was an unpleasant surprise to find her name.

"... Thinking he was the gardener, she said, 'Sir, if you have carried him away, tell me where you have put him, and I will get him.' Jesus said to her, 'Mary.'...

"He was Lord of the universe, yet He called this simple woman by her name... The victory was that of Jesus over those who would silence Him, then and for centuries after. He not only spoke, He also called them by their names...

"Author Ken Gire tells this lovely story. 'A little girl who lived at the edge of a forest wandered off one day into the woods and thought she would explore all the dark secrets of the forest. The farther she wandered, the denser it became, till she lost her bearings and could not find her way back. As darkness descended, fear gripped her, and all her screams and sobs only wearied her till she fell asleep in the woods. Friends, family, and volunteers combed the area and gave up in the thick of night. Early next morning, as her father began his search afresh, he suddenly caught a glimpse of his little girl lying on a rock and, calling her by name, ran as fast as he could. She was startled awake and threw her arms out to him. Wrapped in his tight embrace, she repeated over and over, "Daddy, I found you!"

"Mary discovered the most startling truth of all when she came looking for the body of Jesus. She did not realize that the person she had found was the One who had risen and the He had come looking for her..." pg. 185, 186, 187, 189.---Source: Jesus Among Other Gods by Ravi Zacharias

“ *In life you find an angel
That walks right upon this earth
No wings or halo showing
But heaven's gift at birth*

*Holding you with tenderness
Feeling all your pain
Giving you encouragement
That showers you like gentle rain*

*That very special Angel
That gives that gentle peace
Their halo is not missing
It's right there at your reach*

*Always with that extra love
So willingly they share
No matter what their life is like These wings in life they wear*

*For they have made many a promise
To help to get us through
And there they are just smiling
Watching over you*

*Look there right beside you See a special bright glow
Shining with a radiance
That only you could know*

*Angels born from heaven
They seem to walk your way
With love and true compassion
The friends that always stay*

And so I know an Angel

*Who's stands so very tall
With friendship and such beauty
Their love sustains us all.*

“ Just wanted to let you know we are sharing your sorrow in your sudden loss of Janice. What a wonderful gal to be around. She was always quick with her smile and outrageous sense of humor. I had the privilege of knowing her through our employment at Payless and when we both worked at Larabee's. My sister, Kelle, said she was so much fun when they went on their cruise. To Marlene, I know what it's like to lose a child and my husband and I truly know how you feel. God bless. Kathy (Montgomery) Watson
