“ Pat and family, My thoughts are with you and your family at this time. I can't get to Topeka tonight or tomorrow but I will be thinking about you and your family and sending prayers to the Great One. I remember watching the Rebels rehearse and mentioning the No Where Boys brings a smile to my heart. May the angels watch over all of you and guide Jesse on his next path.

“ Pat,

I remember both of you fondly, especially Jesse because he and my brother, Skip Smith, were such good friends. Mention of the No-Where Boys brought back a lot of fond memories. A silly memory I have is Jesse saying, "If your chili doesn't make your nose run, it isn't spicy enough!" May your memories bring you comfort and peace.

“ Pat and Family, words cannot express the sadness I felt when I heard of Jesse's passing. He was always so nice to all of us at the Attorney General's Office. His work days were usually, Thursdays and Fridays, and when I would walk up those stairs in the morning, he would always have that big smile and he'd say, "Good morning Miss Anna". Even now when I go to work it saddens me that I will never again see that smile. Our granddaughter, Alex, was very sad when I told her of Jesse's passing. She told me that whenever she went to work to see me, Jesse would always talk to her. What an impact he had on so many people; such a kind man with a good heart. My husband and I, and our granddaughter, Alex, send out deepest sympathy to you and your family. Anna Razo

“ Pat: Jo and I sincerely pray for you and your family during this difficult part of your life. Jesse was well respected both in the community he served and with his fellow officers. Jesse is one of those individuals who I respected and admired for being a good leader and a person who always treated people fairly. There are no words that can be said, no thoughts or prayers that can be made that will ease your pain in the coming days. Jesse will be missed but not forgotten, Jesse will live on in those who knew him well and respected him. I will remember Jesse as he was and know that he is with God and they are watching over you and yours. God will comfort you in the days to come and gradually ease your and your families pain. It's not that we will forget Jesse, it's not that there won't be days that we sit down and shed some tears, but we will feel comfort in that Jesse is no longer in pain. Jesse is probably in Heaven right now giving some Angel a ticket for flying too fast. God Bless you and yours and keep you safe until we are once again united with Jesse. K.C. and Jo Blodgett

Dear Pat and family:

Don and I want to send our sympathy to you on the loss of Jesse. While working as a docent at Cedar Crest, I got acquainted with Jesse. And through our converstions, I felt I knew you all. He spoke so highly and admired his family so much. He was a very special person,so caring and kind. What a privilege it was to work with hime.

We know words can say very little at a time like this, but knowing we care and are praying for all of you, maybe helps. We hope so.

Also know how very much Jesse was respected and liked by all who knew him.

“ I haven't seen Jesse in about 25 years or more. I thought of him last week and wondered if he was still living in Topeka. He was a great friend for me through junior high and high school. He is the one that introduced me to the Beatles back in 9th grade! I remember singing beside him in West Side Story, all of the rehearsals and performances for the No Where Boys, football and track practice and riding on his handlebars to get to baseball practice at Harrison Junior High. I know he will be missed by all of his family and friends. I will remember him forever!

“ I worked with Jesse at the Capitol Police and was impressed with him the first time I met him. He never listened to gossip and developed his own thoughts about people. He was funny and always willing to listen. There are those that come into your life and make a big impression but are only there for a short time. Jesse is one of those persons to me. I will miss him deeply and pray that his family is well cared for. God Bless you all.
