“ I'm so sorry for your loss. I knew John from when I started work at Dillons in 2003, back in the deli department. He used to come in all the time and would always stop by and hang out and talk about stuff- everything from things going on in the store that day, to life in general. He was one of those customers that I got to know on a personal level, and he really used to make my day coming in and chatting with me. I could've been having a horrible day at work, and John would show up and start a conversation or crack a joke, and make the day better. I was always glad to help him with anything he needed. I've also witnessed John's kindness myself on several occasions, such as helping a customer in front of him who was a little short on cash pay for the remainder of their groceries. I left Dillons at the beginning of 2012, and unfortunately lost touch with John shortly after that. I wish I had made it up in there more often to try to catch him. The world lost a wonderful person with John's passing, and he will surely never be forgotten. I'll certainly never forget him myself, because he made that much of an impression on me.
