“ As I learned of your mother's passing through Kim, I had tears of joy and sadness. Tears of joy as I remembered the tremendous amount of love, caring and sharing that she embellished on this earth. Joy of knowing how she loved, nourished and cared for our four children and shared their life with all of you. And certainly tears of sadness as I think how she will be missed by all the lives she touched, most importantly all of you. Our hearts and prayers are with each of you.
