“ I will miss you, Dad for the hard-working loving kind person you were. You taught me a lot about life and myself. You shared memories and stories with me. I remember picking a name for my son and you came up with ...(Jesse James Willis) You were a walking history book with a basement full of history you collected through out the years. You made arrowheads, tomahawk heads, you put model airplanes together in detail. You had so much talent Dad for one person. I'm glad I got to share your world. Love your daughter, Debbie.
