She was a volunteer at St. Francis Hospital for 60 years and served as president of the Auxiliary from June of 1994 – 1996.

One of Maxine's favorite hobbies was writing poetry and short stories and some of her poems were published. Maxine composed the following poem in 2000.

I'll Know You In My Heart

When I get really, really old,
And I do nothing unless I'm told,
Hold my hands, and look into my eyes,
I may not know you in my mind.
In my heart, I'll know you are mine.
Come often and visit me,
Tell me about my family,
Hold my hands, and look into my eyes,
I may not know you in my mind.
In my heart, I'll know you're mine.

Talk about my grandchildren, and how they are doing,
Talk about my daughters and my sons,
What they are doing and what they have done.
Hold my hands, and look into my eyes,
I may not know you in my mind.
In my heart, I'll know you're mine.

Grateful to have shared Maxine's life are her children, Marla Drees, Carol Gunckle (Bob), Linda Blanchette, David T. Beckley D.C. and Brent Beckley; 13 grandchildren, 19 great-grandchildren and 3 great-great-grandchildren.

“ My deepest sympathy to the family of Maxine. What a wonderful woman who I remember worked tirelessly in many of the Catholic charities and groups. I am a member of D of I and enjoyed knowing her these many years in that organization. I remember she and my mother working together donating their time for the St. Vincent's Home for Children at Most Pure Heart of Mary. At Christmas they purchased and beautifully wrapped presents for all of the children each year. What a loving and giving woman. May God rest her soul and bless her family at this difficult time. My sincere sympathy.

“ Dear David, Brent, Linda, Carol, and Marla. I am so sorry to hear of your loss. There was a time when I was at your house as much as mine. Your Mom treated me as one of the family, as I saw her do with others.
Please know our thoughts and prayers are with you all.
