“ Paul. I doubt you remembered the afternoon that I held you in my arms when you were still wearing those funny 3-corner pants. I'll never forget back in the winter of 2011 when you knocked on our door and told my wife, who had never seen you in her life, "I'm selling used newspapers, would you be interested." Of course you were there to present us with a wonderful catered, surprise meal of your steak and twice baked potatoes. And of course, thanks so very much for assisting and looking after my Big Sis for so many years. You were one of a kind big guy, and will be missed by many. RSP Paul... knowing that you left tracks in a lot o' hearts on this planet. Harold (and Mary) Stiver

“ Back in high school, while working at the Alpine Inn Steakhouse and Redman Club, Paul was a friend who taught me a lot about cooking. I was just a young snot who didn't know anything and he was an amazing cook, who taught me how to work the grill and run the kitchen. Those skills serve me well to this day!

I hadn't seen Paul in quite a few years, yet I share the loss of his passing. A good man has left our midst. RIP Paul, until we meet again, where we'll grill together! Condolences to his family.
