“ Shoot the Boot Grandma - you will be missed by so many people. Your genuine kindness set you apart from everyone around you. You never had a mean bone in your body and were without a doubt always positive. I sat and looked at the photo album you put together for me ironically the night before you passed. I sat there with tears rolling down my face. These were not tears of sadness, but tears of joy for the many years that I enjoyed with you and grandpa that created lasting memories. So many people do not even have the opportunity to share this much life with a grandparent. I will miss eating ice cream cones with you, your moist cake, pumpkin pie, peanut clusters, and of course potato chip cookies to only name a few. We have had many phone conversations over the years that made lasting impressions in my life. You could always keep a secret. You gave me a wind chime several years ago that is still hanging in my kitchen today. It says "Hang In There". I promise you that I am still hanging in there because I know you went to heaven and saw so many family members and friends and immediately said "Howdy". I will miss you and always love you. Wendy
